Shiny Takes Action for the Environment

Shiny has aligned its management system with priority emphasis on the preservation of natural resources and minimizing the impact of technology on the environment. Setting strict company regulations, we have implemented this approach in every area, from part sourcing and design to development, producing environmentally friendly products. These efforts have been recognized with the company's receipt of the ISO 14001: 2004 Standard certification in October 2009, a fine first step in our ongoing efforts to implement sustainable business policies. Refusing to stand still, Shiny has a series of products made from recycled plastic and exciting new R&D efforts on products made from low-impact materials in the pipeline.

Shiny has been awarded the
ISO 14001: 2004 Standard
